We are the
Video Game
Business Experts

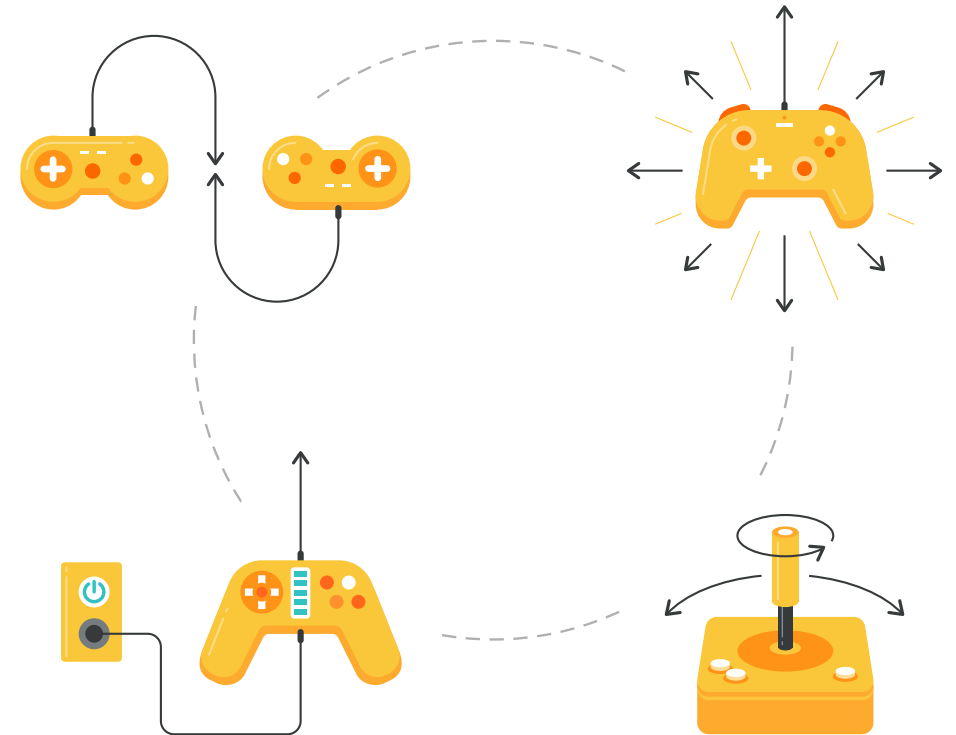

Founded with a mission to improve the business of video games, we assemble comprehensive solutions for game development, strategy, publishing, finance and distribution.

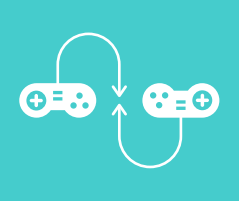

Our team of industry experts is based in nine international offices, ensuring personal relationships around the globe.

Across our representation, consulting and investment services practices, we have secured over $1.2B in development deals and more than 700 agreements.

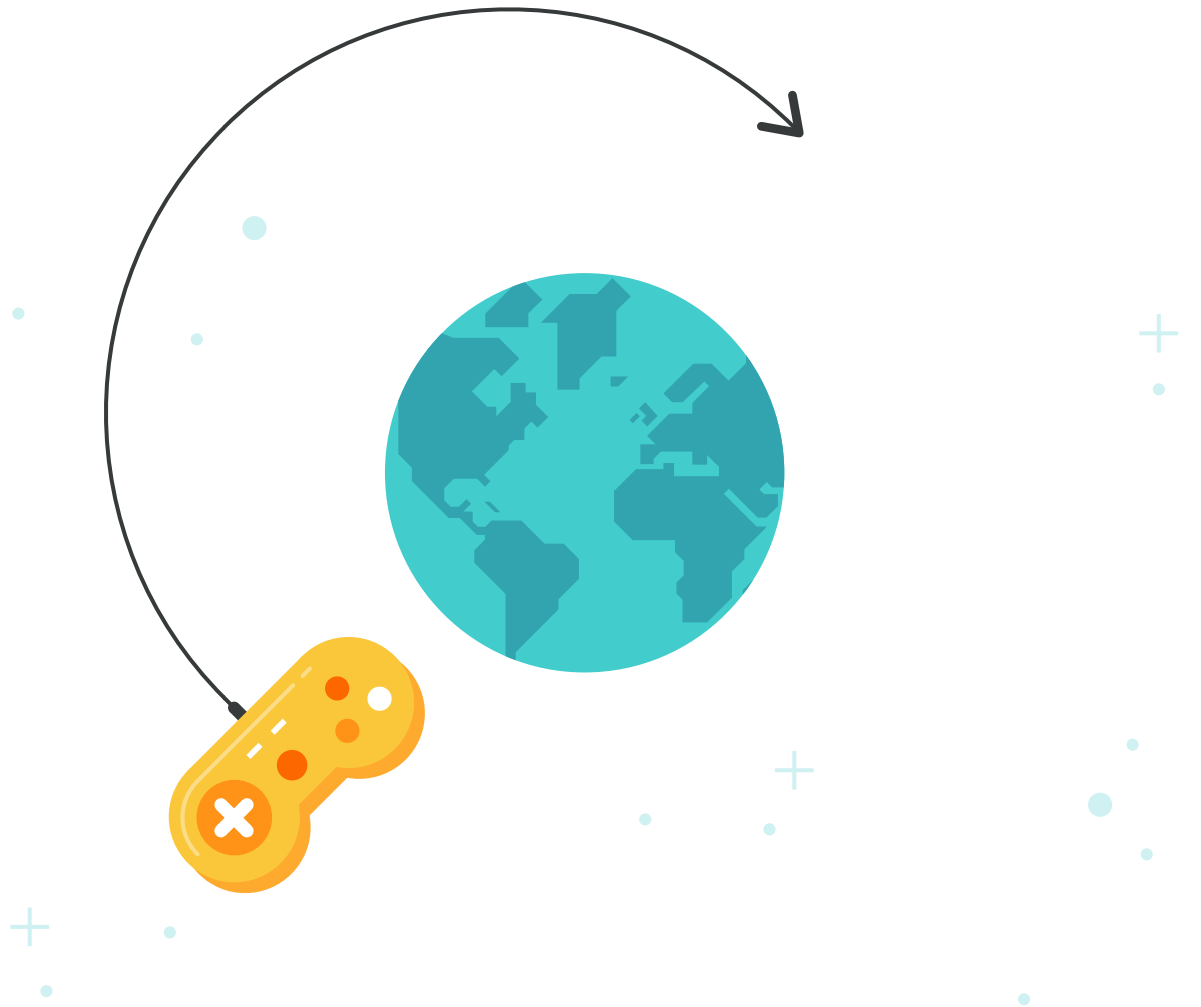

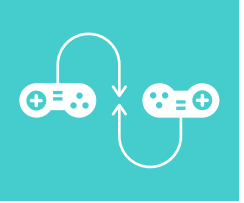

Representation

Representation

DDM represents talented companies around the globe that design, build, support and market video games.

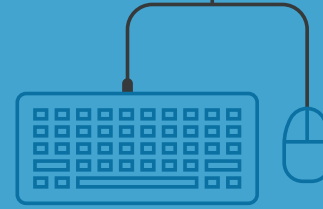

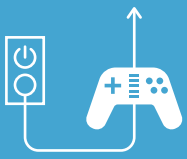

Representation

With its worldwide business development team and deep industry relationships, DDM secures full game deals and co-development projects for its clients.

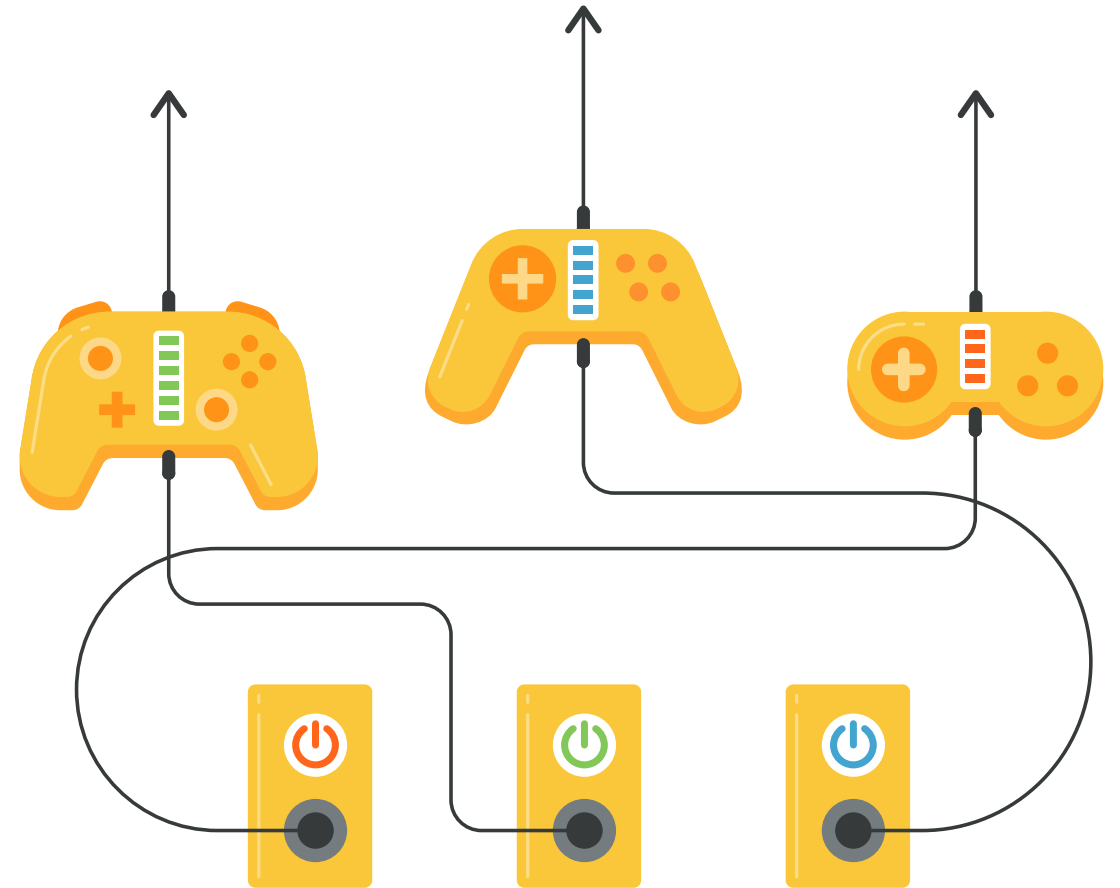

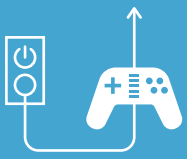

Investment Services

DDM consults as an M&A Broker for companies in the game industry looking to secure a buyer as well as those looking to source acquisition targets.

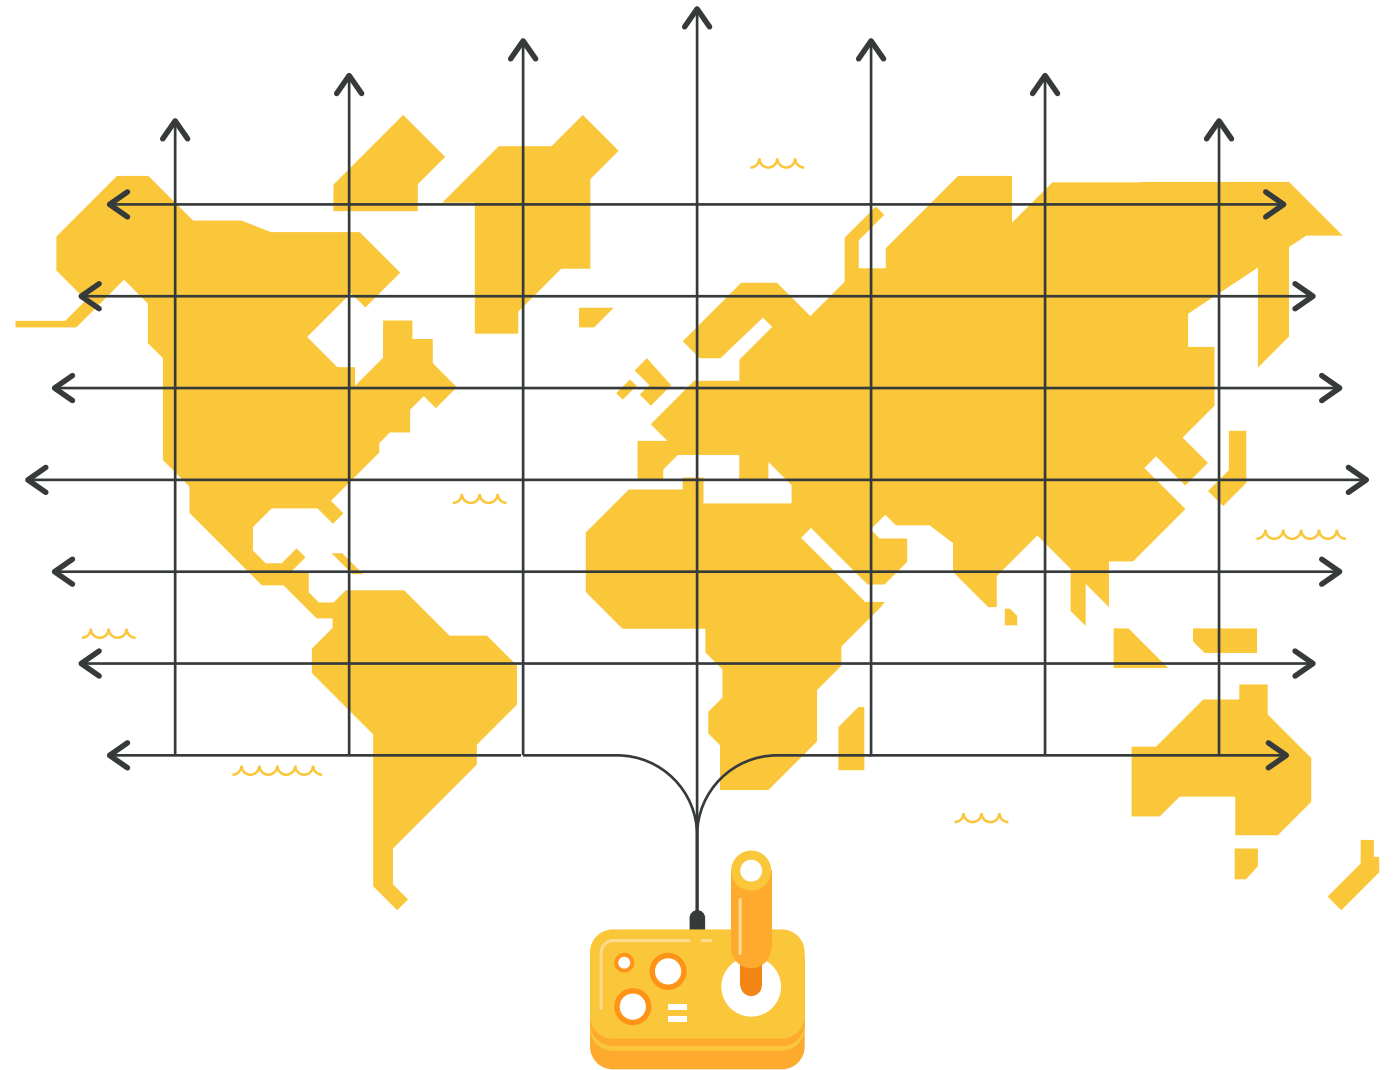

Our extensive knowledge of the games industry and worldwide business development capabilities are combined with deep financial expertise and rich investment data.

Whether you are seeking partial investment or full acquisition, we globally source business prospects that match your strategy and criteria.

Consulting

Consulting

DDM provides best-of-class consulting to help companies succeed in their games industry initiatives.

Consulting

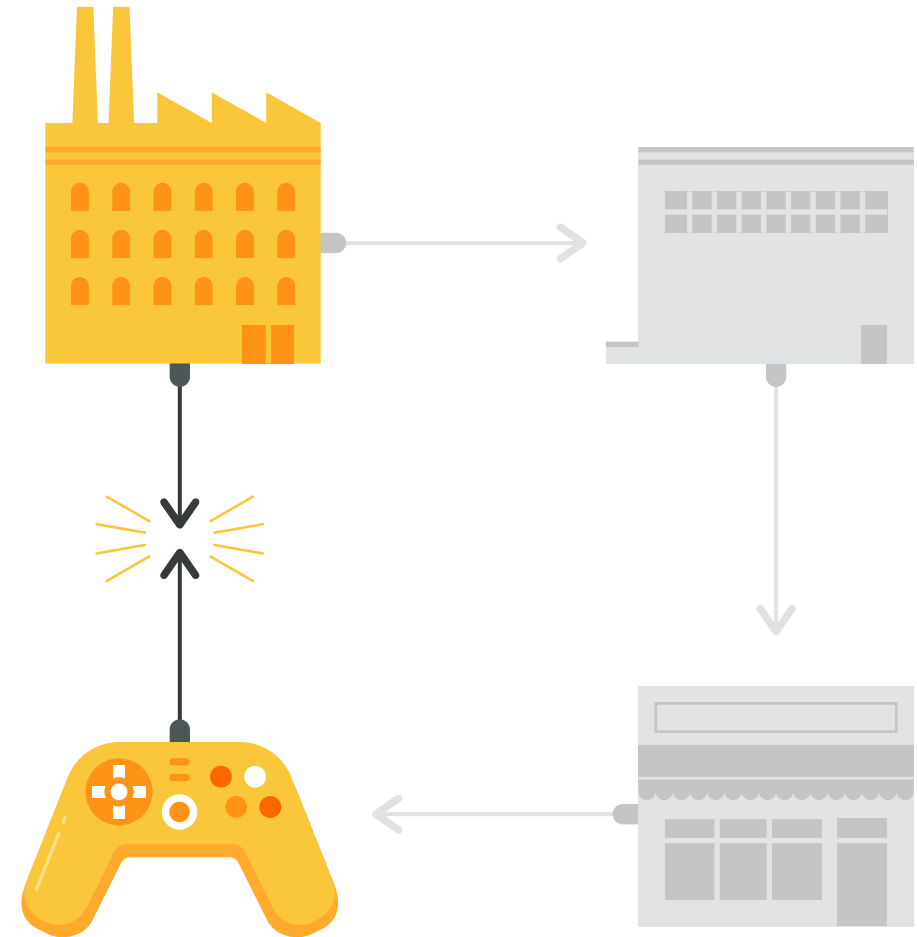

Whether entering the games space, expanding on an existing endeavor, or undertaking a new project that can benefit from interactive technologies, DDM partners with you to build and execute upon a tailored strategy.

Consulting

With a network of consulting executives, development studios, production services experts and publishing capabilities, plus DDM's own internal extensive expertise and research department, DDM can tackle any games industry project you've got.

The DDM Games Investment Review

Created by the DDM Data & Research Team

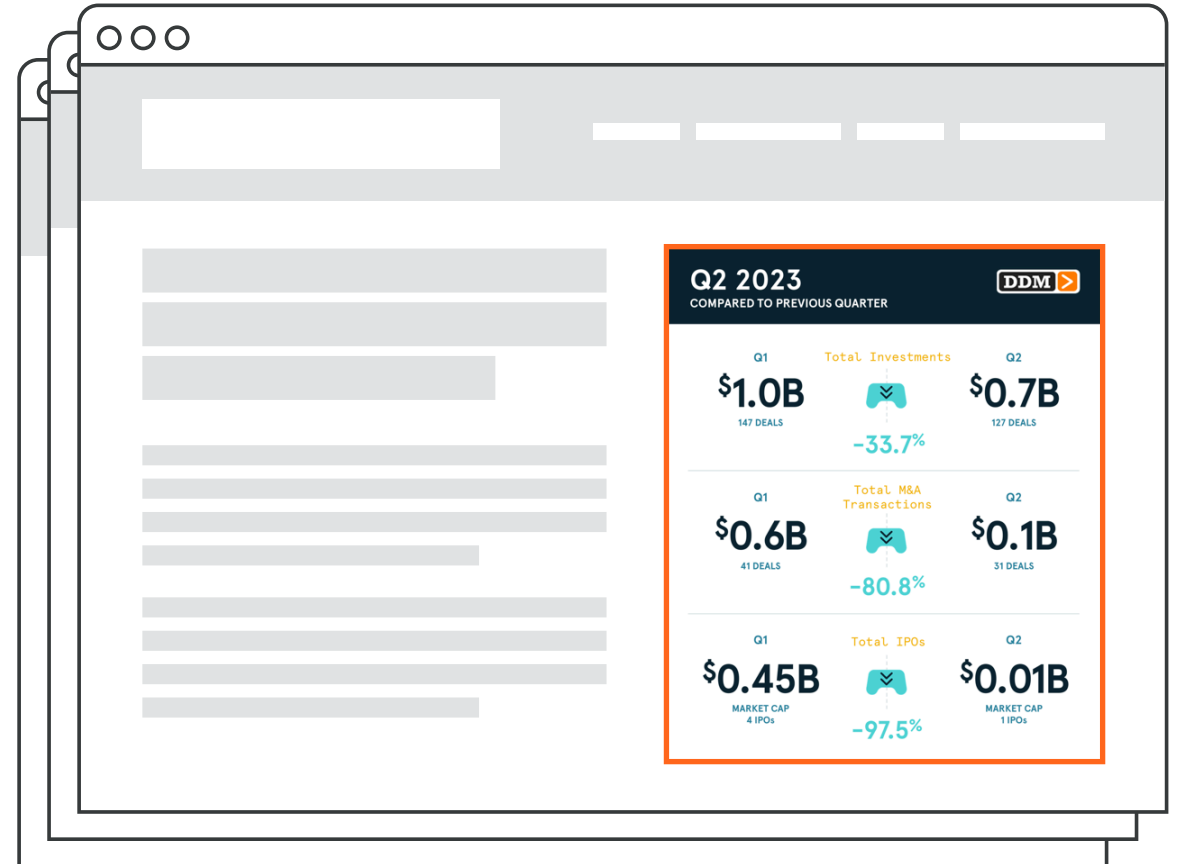

DDM publishes the Games Investment Review, the definitive industry report covering over fourteen years of gaming investments, M&As, and IPO transaction data.

Our quarterly reports receive recognition from some of the top, trusted news sites including Forbes, GamesIndustry.Biz, Deadline and many others.

The games industry is our DNA.

Members of our team have worked for and run development studios and publishing companies—we know the pressures and the stakes.
